colour + connection

Embracing colour sees our city and our communities connect through buoyant, cheerful and safe experiences.

'Streateries' come alive with an array of colour to reflect the multitude of influences in which they bloom; cultures, flavours, music & the arts and that sense of Summer.

Let's make happiness our rebellion and bring back joy to our streets.

ADD INTEREST WITH PAINTED ARTIFICIAL PLANT LIFE.

elevated picnic.

Reclaiming our park-lands and green belt areas sees our neighbourhoods connect through peaceful, ambient and mindful interactions.

Re-imagined 'picnics' hum with the murmur of chatter and laughter. Whilst mother nature's flora and fauna provides the sensory backdrop we so crave.

Celebrate nature and localism with the scent of freshly cut grass, the feeling of coolness beneath a canopy of trees whilst listening to the sounds of bird life as it passes above.

monochrome + mates

Melbourne's monochrome palette is just that; her own blend of black, grey and white. Taken from our blue-stone curb-sides, cafe culture and our people's tendency to adorn head-to-toe black fashions; we're contemporary.

Inspired by Hoddle's famous gridded city - urban sophistication translates with modern furniture selections, clean lines and metal finishes.

the art of open air dining.

A return to alfresco dining will see our decks, patios and commercial courtyards embark on 'open air' transformations.

Our parking lots and less worn pathways will again become a scene featuring European inspired 'dining chic'.

Designed for spaces with shelter and protection, this luxurious take on one of our favourite past times, coming together with loved ones, will see terrazzo, wicker and rattan 'set the (cocktail) bar high'.
